

Quality policy

Endurance Motive, S.A., created in February 2018, with 100% national capital, was born from the desire of the founding partners to improve the world of batteries, moving from lead batteries to lithium batteries. We are specialised in the design and development of new energy solutions for material handling vehicles, industrial and naval logistics as well as urban electromobility. We implement new technologies for the accumulation of lithium-based batteries, adding control and management systems to improve logistics and mobility processes in the industry, naval sector and urban electromobility. We are dedicated to understanding our clients' priorities and needs and responding to them with innovative technological solutions. Our success depends on our dedication to customer satisfaction and the quality of our products and processes, which are our main objectives.

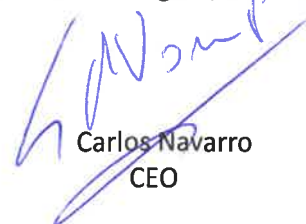

Aware of the importance of our context, our strategic plan and this commitment to quality, environment and satisfaction, the general management has decided to implement a quality management system based on the ISO 9001:2015 standard and undertakes to comply with the applicable requirements in order to achieve continuous improvement of the quality management system, based on the following principles :

- Considering quality, continuous improvement, environment, health and safety as strategic elements of the organisation, by stimulating the motivation and awareness of the parties concerned about the importance of the implementation and development of our management system.
- Considering the risks and opportunities, as well as the commitment to continuous improvement, of our work and the continuous monitoring of our suppliers of products and services, with the aim of ensuring maximum quality and environment about service in our products.
- Evaluate and measure our raw materials according to established quality standards.
- Capacity for innovation, to anticipate market/customer needs.
- Satisfy the needs and expectations of our stakeholders, achieving excellence in the quality of our products and services.
- Providing training based on the principles of Quality and Environment for all the organisation's personnel, as well as their involvement, as a fundamental tool to achieve the quality expected.
- Efficient control of all processes and their possible effects on the quality of our products.
- Comply with all management system requirements, whether legal, contractual, health and safety or other, which are applicable to our business.
